Future Asian Trade Deals & IP

Introduction (by Professors Kung-Chung Liu/Julien Chaisse)

Part 1. From TPP to RCEP: What’s the Difference?
Chapter 1 Selecting the Right Representatives to Negotiate during the Trade Talks
Benjamin THAM, Research Associate, ARCIALA benjamin.thamyy@gmail.com (TRADE LAW)

Chapter 2 The Trade Strategies and the Power Games between PRC, India and the US
HAN Liyu/Jiaxun Sun (PhD candidate), Renmin University of China hanliyu@263.net (TRADE LAW)

Chapter 3 The Future of China’s Trade Pact and Intellectual Property Rights (TRADE LAW)
Han-Wei Liu (Monash University, Australia)/Si-Wei Lu (PhD Candidate, Institute of Technology, Innovation, and IPR, National Chengchi University)
han-wei.liu@graduateinstitute.ch

Part 2. Investor-State Arbitration and IP
Chapter 4 Recalibrating the balance in international investment arbitration
Tomoko Ishikawa, Nagoya University, Graduate School of International Development mane@tkc.att.ne.jp (TRADE LAW)

Chapter 5 Issuance of Compulsory Licenses and Expropriation in Asian BITs and FTA Investment Chapters: A Study of Indian, Chinese and Select ASEAN Countries
Prabhash Ranjan, South Asian University, New Delhi, India prabhash.ranjan@sau.ac.in(TRADE LAW)

Part 3. Improving the Proposed IP Provisions and Redefining Global IP norms
Chapter 6 The RCEP Negotiation and Asian Intellectual Property Norm Setters
Peter Yu, Texas A&M

Chapter 7 Will RCEP Redefine Norms Related to Pre-grant Opposition and Experimental Use Exceptions in International Patent Law?
Prashant Reddy THIKKAVARAPU preddy85@gmail.com

Chapter 8 Patent Term Extension in the Pharmaceutical Sector: An Asian Comparative Perspective
Chapter 9 Mitigating the Impacts of Patent Linkage on Access to Medicine: Some Asian Experiences and Suggestions

Su-Hua Lee, National Taiwan University

Chapter 10 Intellectual Property in Plant Material and Free Trade Agreements in Asia

Christoph Antons, University of Newcastle, Australia Christoph.Antons@newcastle.edu.au

Chapter 11 Pre-established Damages for Copyright Infringement and Trademark Counterfeiting under CPTPP and RCEP

Kung-Chung Liu, Singapore Management University/Renmin University of China

Chapter 12 Restructuring Copyright Limitations in the Public Interest: A Proposal for Asian Trade Deals

Haochen SUN, The University of Hong Kong haochen.sun@hku.hk

Chapter 13 The Domain Name Provisions of the CPTPP-- Assessing the New Standard for Future FTAs (Professor Julien Chaisse, The Chinese University of Hong Kong) julien.chaisse@cuhk.edu.hk